SOCIETIES.

Five Societies, the Philalethic, the Orthological, the Phileuphradic, the Philomathean, and the Philharmonic, exist among the students of the University.

The Philalethic Society was instituted in 1832, and subsequently sanctioned by the Board and Faculty of the University. Its principal object is to improve the members in public speaking. The honorary members are allowed to be present at their debate.

OFFICERS OF THE PHILAETHIC SOCIETY.

J. D. JOHNSTON, President;
 THOS. HARVEY, Vice President;
 LEON PAPIN, Secretary;
 JAS. CURELL, Treasurer;
 FRANC. DUPLESSIS, Librarian;
 JOHN YORE, First Censor;
 HENRY VON PHUL, Second Censor.

The Orthological Society was instituted in 1840, and sanctioned by the Board and Faculty of the University. Its object is the improvement of its members by means of Literary Discussions and Speeches, calculated to accustom them to speak with ease and fluency.

OFFICERS OF THE ORTHOLOGICAL SOCIETY.

JAMES CONVERSE, President;
 WM. FORSYTH, Vice President;
 FERDINAND BOCHER, Secretary;

DAVID BARROW, Treasurer;
 EDGAR PITOT, Librarian;
 EDWARD HAYES, First Censor;
 HENRY JANIS, Second Censor.

The Phileuphradic Society was established in 1842. Its principal object is to improve the members in French Literature, and to enable them to acquire a facility in speaking that useful language.

OFFICERS OF THE PHILEUPHRADIC SOCIETY.

J. DEBLIECK, President;
 EUGENE FORSTALL, Vice President;
 CHARLES DELHOMMER, Secretary;
 FRANCIS DUPLESSIS, Treasurer;
 JULES TREPAGNIER, Librarian;

PROSPECTUS.

THIS Literary Establishment, situated in the western part of the city of Saint Louis, was incorporated by an act of the State Legislature in 1832, "under the name and style of the Saint Louis University, and empowered to confer degrees "and academical honors in all the learned professions, and "generally, to have and enjoy all the powers, rights, and privileges exercised by literary institutions of the same rank." It enjoys considerable advantages. The amenity and salubrity of its site are peculiarly favorable to application. Its proximity to the Mississippi facilitates the means of communication. The buildings are spacious, neat, and airy; the diet is wholesome and abundant; the discipline of the Institution is firm and paternal; the professors and tutors are members of the Catholic clergy; who, being exclusively devoted to the education of youth in virtue and science, spare no pains to inform the minds and improve the hearts of their pupils.

SYSTEM OF INSTRUCTION.

The plan of education embraces two courses, the Scientific and the Mercantile.

The Scientific course includes the study of Theology, Law, Medicine, Philosophy, and Literature.

Theological Department.—The study of Theology is completed in four years; during which Dogmatic and Moral Theology, the Sacred Scriptures, Ecclesiastical History, and Canon Law are explained. The Hebrew Language and Sacred Eloquence are also taught in this department.

Law Department—The Science of Law is taught by Lay-Professors chosen by the President and Faculty of the University. The course of Lectures commences on the third Monday of November. (See Prospectus).

Medical Department.—The Science of Medicine is taught by seven Professors. The session opens on the third Monday of October. (See Prospectus.)

A course of lectures on Medical Jurisprudence will be delivered, which the students of both these departments may attend.

Philosophical Department.—The study of Philosophy is completed in two years. The first year comprises Trigonometry, Mensuration, Surveying, the principles of Chemistry and Natural Philosophy, and the study of Logic and Metaphysics. The second year comprises Moral Philosophy, the Differential and Integral Calculus, Analytical Geometry, Physics, Chemistry, and Astronomy.

The Study of Literature embraces the Greek, Latin, English and French languages ; Geography, History, Arithmetic, Algebra and Geometry, Poetry, and Rhetoric.

The Mercantile Course, besides English Grammar, Poetry, and Rhetoric, History, Geography, Mathematics, Chemistry, and Natural Philosophy, includes the study of the French, Spanish, German, and Italian languages, Book-keeping and Penmanship. In the Preparatory Class are taught Reading, Writing, the Elements of Grammar, Arithmetic, History, and Geography.

GENERAL REMARKS.

To improve the students of Law and Philosophy, an Academy will be formed for the discussion of subjects relating to the law of nature, and to mental and moral philosophy.

Five societies—the Philalethic, the Orthological, the Phileuphradic, the Philomathean, and the Philharmonic—exist among the students. The object of the three first is, to improve the regular members in public speaking. Meetings are held once a week, at which the honorary members are allowed to be present, and to take part in the debates. The exercises of the Philalethic and Orthological societies are performed in English, those of the Phileuphradic in French. The object of the Philomathean society is to prepare students for the three first named societies. The object of the Philharmonic is to add solemnity to the celebration of our religious, national and literary festivals, and to afford the qualified student the advantage of performing a part in Concert Music.

A Museum or Cabinet of Natural History, a Philosophical and Chemical apparatus, and an extensive Library, are attached to the Institution.

The scholastic year, consisting of but one session, opens on the first day of September, and closes on the 15th of July; when the Annual commencement, the conferring of degrees, and the distribution of premiums take place. An examination of all the classes is made on the days immediately preceding.

The degree of A. B. is, at the end of the second year of Philosophy, conferred upon those who are found sufficiently qualified. The degree of A. M. is given to the Alumni, who, after having received the degree of A. B., have devoted two years to some literary pursuit. Other academical honors are granted to merit and distinction in the learned professions.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

No one will be admitted, unless he bear a good moral character, and know how to read and write his vernacular tongue.

No pupil will be admitted to the study of Philosophy, unless he have completed the regular course of literature.

None of those who pursue the scientific course will be permitted to study any of the modern languages, French and English excepted, until they have completed the study of literature.

The English is the ordinary language of communication in all the classes, except those of Theology, Mental Philosophy, French, German, and Spanish.

Violations of the established discipline of the University are repressed in a mild and effectual manner. Those who, in spite of all efforts to correct them, prove immoral or refractory, are timely sent back to their parents or guardians.

Should the student have been at any other institution, he must bring testimonials of good behavior from the President or Faculty.

At the expiration of every quarter, bulletins are sent to the parents or guardians, to inform them of the conduct, health, and proficiency of the pupils.

On the first Thursday of every month, the students, whose parents or guardians live in the city or its vicinity, are allowed to visit them, but they must return before dark. No other absence is allowed during the course of the session.

During the recess, or annual vacation, the students may visit their parents, or enjoy the amusements of the country in the healthy neighborhood of the city of St. Louis.

On the first Wednesday of every month, the places obtained in the respective classes are publicly proclaimed, and badges of distinction are given to the most deserving in each class.

Every Thursday in the year is a general recreation day, on which the students are permitted to amuse themselves by hunting, fishing, walking, bathing, &c. They are, at all times, under the superintendence of one or more of the tutors or prefects.

Two experienced Physicians daily visit the University. The greatest care and attention are bestowed upon the sick.

The public exercises of religion are those of the Catholic Church, but pupils of all denominations are admitted, provided they be willing, for the sake of order and uniformity, to assist with their companions at the public duties of Divine service and prayer.

T E R M S .

The terms for Board and Tuition in all the branches taught in both departments, Law and Medicines excepted, are $130 per session ; for washing, and mending of articles washed, if done at the Institution, $20 ; for physician's fees, unless parents wish to incur the risk of paying the full bill, $5 ; for stationery, consisting of paper, quills, and ink, if furnished by the Institution, $5 ; for the use of bed and bedding, if furnished by the Institution, $8. An additional charge of $20 is made for such as spend the vacations at the University.

Half-boarders pay $100 per session—they breakfast, dine, and study at the University. Externs pay $40 per session. On entrance, boarders pay $10, and half-boarders, $5, as Matriculation fee. Students in Chemistry and Natural Philosophy pay an additional charge of $10 per session for the use of the apparatus.

Music, Drawing, Fencing, and Dancing, form extra charges, Medicines and school books are furnished at the store prices.

The session is divided into quarters, commencing September 1st, November 20th, February 10th, and April 30th.

In all cases, the payments must be made quarterly or semi-annually, in advance, and no deduction is made for absence, except in case of protracted sickness, or dismissal.

SPECIAL DIRECTIONS.

The student must be provided with a uniform to be worn on public occasions. It consists of a blue or black frock or dress coat, with blue or black cloth pantaloons for winter, and white ones for summer. If a boarder, he must also be provided with two suits of clothes adapted to the season; a sufficient number of shirts, handkerchiefs, socks, napkins, towels, knife, fork, spoon, tumbler, combs, brushes, and other indispensable articles. All these articles can be purchased at the University, provided a sum sufficient to meet the expenses be placed in the hands of the procurator. The bedding, when supplied by the parents, must consist of a mattress of 6 by 2 1-2 feet, at least two pair of sheets, two double blankets and a white counterpane. The bedsteads are invariably furnished by the Institution.

No student is allowed to have money in his own custody. The pocket-money must be deposited with the procurator. It is the wish of the Faculty that no more than 12 1-2 or 25 cents per week be allowed to the students.

When, at the end of the session, parents or guardians wish to have their children or wards sent home, they must give timely notice to the President, settle all accounts, and forward what is necessary for traveling expenses.

The parents, who live at a distance, are requested to appoint an agent in St. Louis or New Orleans, who must be answerable for the regular payment of all expenses, and to whom the children may be directed on leaving the University.

who is a regular agent of the University, will receive the payments, and send on such children as may be recommended to his care by the parents or guardians.

All letters sent or received by the students, unless they be to or from their parents, are subject to the inspection of the President; and as children are apt to extenuate or exaggerate, the parents would do well, in such cases, to write to the President or some member of the Faculty, in order that the cause of their displeasure, should any be supposed to exist, may be made known, and, if well grounded, timely removed.

All letters written by parents, or others, to the students, or to the President or agents of the Institution, must be directed free of postage, or they will be liable to remain at the post-office.

CIRCULAR OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

The President and Board of Trustees of the Medical Department of the St. Louis University, would also, in a few words, call attention to the condition and prospects of the Institution committed to their charge. As was reasonably to be expected, the number of students attending its last session was greater than previously. During the last year very great additions were made to the Chemical apparatus and Library, so as to render it very complete. In the coming fall ample additions will be made to the Anatomical and Pathological Museum. The Board take great pleasure in announcing that the Chair which was vacated by the resignation of Professor Hall, has been filled by the appointment of Henry M. Bullitt, M. D., of Louisville, Ky. Professor Bullitt has had all the advantages which ripe study in this country and in Europe could afford; and his reputation shows that he has not neglected them. Placed now in a conspicuous and prominent position, the Board feel authorized in predicting a brilliant career for him.

Taking into consideration the highly satisfactory manner in which the past session was conducted, the increased number of the class, and present condition of the school, the Board anticipates for the Institution a steady advancement in usefulness and reputation; and would confidently guarantee to all who may resort to it for knowledge, a course of instruction as thorough as any in the country.

The confidence in the perpetuity and success of the school is founded, not only the known abilities of the Faculty, but on the fact, that the city in which it is located is rapidly advancing in population; and all the other elements of greatness; for it does not require that men should be physicians, in order to appreciate the advantages afforded by such a city, for the cultivation of medicine.

The Board, then, with increased pleasure and confidence, would again recommend to patronage, the Medical Department of the St. Louis University.

JAMES H. LUCAS, President.

LUTHER M. KENNETT, Secretary.

PROSPECTUS.

THIS Literary Establishment, situated in the western part of the city of Saint Louis, was incorporated by an act of the State Legislature in 1832, "under the name and style of the Saint Louis University, and empowered to confer degrees "and academical honors in all the learned professions, and "generally, to have and enjoy all the powers, rights, and "privileges exercised by literary institutions of the same "rank." It enjoys considerable advantages. The amenity and salubrity of its site are peculiarly favorable to application. Its proximity to the Mississippi facilitates the means of communication. The buildings are spacious, neat, and airy; the diet is wholesome and abundant; the discipline of the Institution is firm and paternal; the professors and tutors are members of the Catholic clergy; who, being exclusively devoted to the education of youth in virtue and science, spare no pains to inform the minds and improve the hearts of their pupils.

SYSTEM OF INSTRUCTION.

The plan of education embraces two courses, the Scientific and the Mercantile.

The Scientific course includes the study of Theology, Law, Medicine, Philosophy, and Literature.

Theological Department.—The study of Theology is completed in four years; during which Dogmatic and Moral Theology, the Sacred Scriptures, Ecclesiastical History, and Canon Law are explained. The Hebrew Language and Sacred Eloquence are also taught in this department.

Law Department.—The Science of Law is taught by Lay-Professors chosen by the President and Faculty of the University. The course of Lectures commences on the first Monday of November. (See Prospectus.)

Medical Department.—The Science of Medicine is taught by seven Professors. The session opens on the first Monday of November. (See Prospectus.)

A course of lectures on Medical Jurisprudence will be delivered, which the students of both these departments may attend.

Philosophical Department.—The study of Philosophy is completed in two years. The first year comprises Trigonometry, Mensuration, Surveying, the principles of Chemistry and Natural Philosophy, and the study of Logic and Metaphysics. The second year comprises Moral Philosophy, the Differential and Integral Calculus, Analytical Geometry, Physics, Chemistry, and Astronomy.

The Study of Literature embraces the Greek, Latin, English and French languages; Geography, History, Arithmetic, Algebra and Geometry, Poetry, and Rhetoric.

The Mercantile course, besides English Grammar, Poetry, and Rhetoric, History, Geography, Mathematics, Chemistry, and Natural Philosophy, includes the study of the French, Spanish, German, and Italian languages, Book-keeping and Penmanship. In the Preparatory Class are taught Reading, Writing, the elements of Grammar, Arithmetic, History, and Geography.

GENERAL REMARKS.

To improve the students of Law and Philosophy, an Academy will be formed for the discussion of subjects relating to the law of nature, and to mental and moral philosophy.

Four societies—the Philalethic, the Orthological, the Phileuphradic, and the Philharmonic—exist among the students. The object of the three first is, to improve the regular members in public speaking. Meetings are held once a-week, at which the honorary members are allowed to be present, and to take part in the debates. The exercises of the Philalethic and Orthological societies are performed in English, those of the Phileuphradic in French. The object of the Philharmonic is to add solemnity to the celebration of our religious, national and literary festivals, and to afford the qualified student the advantage of performing a part in Concert Music.

A Museum or Cabinet of Natural History, a Philosophical and Chemical apparatus, and an extensive Library, are attached to the Institution.

The scholastic year, consisting of but one session, opens on the first day of September, and closes on the 15th of July; when the Annual Commencement, the conferring of degrees, and the distribution of premiums take place. An examination of all the classes is made on the days immediately preceding.

The degree of A. B. is, at the end of the second year of Philosophy, conferred upon those who are found sufficiently qualified. The degree of A. M. is given to the Alumni, who, after having received the degree of A. B. have devoted two years to some literary pursuit. Other academical honors are granted to merit and distinction in the learned professions.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

No one will be admitted, unless he bear a good moral character, and know how to read and write his vernacular tongue.

No pupil will be admitted to the study of Philosophy, unless he have completed the regular course of literature.

None of those who pursue the scientific course will be permitted to study any of the modern languages, French and English excepted, until they have completed the study of literature.

The English is the ordinary language of communication in all the classes, except those of Theology, Mental Philosophy, French, German, and Spanish.

Violations of the established discipline of the University are repressed in a mild and effectual manner. Those who, in spite of all efforts to correct them, prove immoral or refractory, are timely sent back to their parents or guardians.

Should the student have been at any other institution, he must bring testimonials of good behavior from the President or Faculty.

At the expiration of every quarter, bulletins are sent to the parents or guardians, to inform them of the conduct, health, and proficiency of the pupils.

On the first Thursday of every month, the students, whose parents or guardians live in the city or its vicinity, are allowed to visit them, but they must return before dark. No other absence is allowed during the course of the session.

During the recess or annual vacation, the students may visit their parents, or enjoy the amusements of the country in the healthy neighborhood of the city of St. Louis.

On the first Wednesday of every month, the places obtained in the respective classes are publicly proclaimed, and badges of distinction are given to the most deserving in each class.

Every Thursday in the year is a general recreation day, on which the students are permitted to amuse themselves by hunting, fishing, walking, bathing, &c. They are at all times under the superintendence of one or more of the tutors or prefects.

Two experienced Physicians daily visit the University. The greatest care and attention are bestowed on the sick.

The public exercises of religion are those of the Catholic church, but pupils of all denominations are admitted, provided they be willing, for the sake of order and uniformity, to assist with their companions at the public duties of Divine service and prayer.

TERMS.

The terms for Board and Tuition in all the branches taught in both departments, Law and Medicine excepted, are $130 per session; for washing, and mending of articles washed, if done at the Institution, $20; for physician's fees, unless parents wish to incur the risk of paying the full bill, $5; for stationery, consisting of paper, quills and ink, if furnished by the Institution, $5; for the use of bed and bedding, if furnished by the Institution, $8.—An additional charge of $20 is made for such as spend the vacations at the University.

Half-boarders pay $100 per session—they breakfast, dine, and study at the University. Externs pay $40 per session. On entrance, boarders pay $10, and half-boarders, $5, as Matriculation fee. Students in Chemistry and Natural Philosophy pay an additional charge of $10 per session, for the use of the apparatus.

Music, Drawing, Fencing and Dancing, form extra charges. Medicines and school books are furnished at the store prices.

The session is divided into quarters, commencing September 1st, November 20th, February 10th, and April 30th.

In all cases, the payments must be made quarterly or semi-annually, in advance, and no deduction is made for absence, except in case of protracted sickness or dismissal.

SPECIAL DIRECTIONS:

The student must be provided with a uniform to be worn on public occasions. It consists of a blue or black frock or dress coat, with blue or black cloth pantaloons for winter, and white ones for summer. If a boarder, he must also be provided with two suits of clothes adapted to the season; a sufficient number of shirts, handkerchiefs, socks, napkins, towels, knife, fork, spoon, tumbler, combs, brushes, and other indispensable articles. All these articles can be purchased at the University, provided a sum sufficient to meet the expenses be placed in the hands of the procurator. The bedding, when supplied by the parents, must consist of a mattress of 6 by 21-2 feet, at least two pair of sheets, two double blankets, and a white counterpane. The bedsteads are invariably furnished by the Institution.

No student is allowed to have money in his own custody. The pocket-money must be deposited with the procurator. It is the wish of the Faculty that no more than 12 1-2 or 25 cents per week be allowed to the students.

When, at the end of the session, parents or guardians wish to have their children or wards sent home, they must give timely notice to the President, settle all accounts, and forward what is necessary for traveling expenses.

The parents, who live at a distance, are requested to appoint an agent in St. Louis or New Orleans, who must be answerable for the regular payment of all expenses, and to whom the children may be directed on leaving the University.

who is a regular agent of the University, will receive the payments, and send on such children as may be recommended to his care by the parents or guardians.

All letters sent or received by the students, unless they be to or from their parents, are subject to the inspection of the President; and as children are apt to extenuate or exaggerate, the parents would do well, in such cases to write to the President, or to some member of the Faculty, in order that the cause of their displeasure, should any be supposed to exist, may be made known, and, if well grounded, timely removed.

All letters written by parents or others to the students, or to the President or agents of the Institution, must be directed free of postage, or they shall be liable to remain at the post-office.
